Purchasing Guidelines for the Devereux Center for Resilient Children (DCRC)

The Devereux Center for Resilient children offers nationally standardized, valid and reliable screening and assessment tools to measure children’s resilience and social and emotional competence. Research-based strategies for families and child serving professionals (early childhood educators, case workers, teachers, after-school staff) are linked to assessment results so that plans for the home and group settings can be put into place to strengthen children’s resilience and social and emotional health. The Devereux Center for Resilient Children offers an array of resources that can be used individually or comprehensively as part of the Devereux Early Childhood Assessment Program and Devereux Student Strengths Comprehensive System. The assessments, strategy resources, and professional development offered by the Devereux Center for Resilient Children are described in more detail throughout this document.

All of the assessments are available in either print or web-based formats. Print resources are sold as complete kits or as individual items. The web-based platforms offer the screening and assessment tools online as well as access to strategies for families and professionals. Programs using the web-based platforms may wish to purchase select print resources to enhance implementation, but this is not required. To learn more about the early childhood web-based platform, please visit www.e-DECA2.org. To learn more about the school-age web-based platform, please visit: <http://www.apertureed.com/>

DCRC has two publishing partners --- Kaplan Early Learning Company is the publisher of the early childhood resources (Infant, Toddler, and Preschool) and Aperture Education is the publisher of the school-age resources (Kindergarten – High School). To place orders for the early childhood resources, please visit www.kaplanco.com or call (800) 334-2014. To place orders for school-age resources, please visit <http://www.apertureed.com/> or call (844) 685-2499.

To discuss questions about any of the DCRC resources, please contact the DCRC team at (866) 872-4687 or email us at dcrc@devereux.org

Devereux Early Childhood Assessment (DECA) Program (Birth through Age 5)

Consideration #1: Paper or web-based Assessment Forms:

Paper: Programs must first decide if they plan to use paper record forms or the web-based system to conduct child assessments. Paper record forms are printed on NCR paper, allowing for the administration and scoring to occur directly on the form. The paper assessment forms are packaged by age range including Infant (4 weeks – 18 months); Toddler (18 - 36 months); and Preschool (3 yrs. – 5 yrs). Programs that use paper record forms need to determine how many children will be assessed; how many times per year each child will be assessed (by both parents and teaching staff) and then order the appropriate number of packages based on these answers.

For example: Children (40) X Administrations per year (2) X Parent and Teacher administration each time (2) = 160 forms per year

For programs using paper record forms, Devereux does recommend that each classroom and each consultant/specialist have their own complete DECA Kit (either the Infant/Toddler Kit, Preschool Kit or both, depending on the age range of children served). This best practice approach allows for easy access to all of the resources and reduces any obstacles to becoming familiar with the resources and using them on a regular, everyday basis. Many kit components will be used year after year, with other resources including the assessments and For Now and Forever parent guides needing to be re-ordered based on the size of the group and the number of assessments to be completed on the group of children each year.

Web-based: For programs that have reliable access to the internet and staff who are comfortable with technology, the e-DECA web-based system offers an effective, efficient means to screen and assess children. e-DECA includes access to the infant, toddler and preschool assessment forms (including the DECA Clinical), allowing staff to conduct ratings online. The web-based system also features the ability to print a pdf of the assessment forms so that parents can complete a paper form that is then keyed into the computer to generate scores. The system automatically scores the assessment results and produces reports including single child; pre-post; rater-comparison; parent letters in English and Spanish and site and program aggregate reports. The system also offers a variety of strategies that can be integrated into practices that support planning for children in the group setting/classroom and/or at home. Additionally, if a program uses Conscious Discipline, the e-DECA with access to Conscious Discipline strategies can be purchased. A purchasing calculator is available to support programs in understanding the most cost effective purchasing options for the eDECA and the link to the online calculator is available in the web-based section of this document. For programs that choose eDECA, purchasing the DECA Kits would not be recommended since several of the kit components are available as downloads on the website. Rather, Devereux does recommend that each classroom have their own Strategies guide, Adult Resilience Journal, FLIP IT, and sufficient For Now and Forever Parent guides for each family, with other resources more easily shared by staff located within the same physical location. Depending on the age of the children served, staff will need either the Infant/Toddler guide (Infant and Toddler Strategies Guide) or Preschool guide (Promoting Resilience in Preschools: A Strategy Guide for Early Childhood Professionals) as well as parent guides.

Consideration #2: What roles do staff play in DECA Program Implementation?

In best practice, Devereux recommends that for programs using the paper assessment forms, all consultants and specialists supporting direct care providers should have access to their own DECA Kit (*If a consultant/specialist works with children birth – 5, an Infant/Toddler and Preschool Kit would be recommended). Devereux also recommends that teachers and other direct care providers also have their own kit, to encourage and support easy access to resources at all times. However, if programs are using e-DECA or if programs are using paper assessment forms and can't financially support a kit for each classroom or each direct care provider, we recommend that resources be purchased individually and have provided guidelines below.

Consideration #3: Confirm the age range of children to be served.

Devereux now offers a continuum of resources that span from birth through 8th grade (High School edition in development as of 2017). All of the Devereux resources are designed to allow caregivers and parents to screen, assess, support and evaluate outcomes in order to promote the resilience and healthy social and emotional development of young children. Programs must confirm the age range of children who will be served to ensure that the appropriate resources are available based on the children's ages. Because the resources are packaged a bit differently by age (Infant/Toddler, Preschool, and School-Age), the following purchasing guidelines are presented by resource and age group.

Professional Development on the DECA-I/T and/or DECA Preschool Program

DECA/DECA-I/T Overview or Implementation Training – These trainings are designed for programs who plan to use the DECA for Infants and Toddlers Program and/or the DECA Preschool Program. Participants will learn about the importance of resilience and how to implement our strength-based assessment and planning systems in their programs and with families. These trainings can also support programs who work with children birth through five years old.

DECA/DECA-I/T Program Refresher Training – Customized to meet your program’s needs, this 1-day session can offer a review of the DECA/DECA-I/T Program Implementation process or focus on a few areas that need more attention.

DECA/DECA-I/T Program Advanced Planning Training – If your program has been trained on the DECA/DECA-I/T Program and is looking for more support on using assessment results for planning, this 1-day training is for you! This training provides a brief review and then focuses on using assessment results to plan at the classroom/group level as well as for individual children who may need additional supports.

DECA/DECA-I/T Local Program Mentor Training – This training is for programs looking to build internal capacity to provide on-going workshops and technical assistance on the DECA/DECA-I/T Program. Participants leave this training with the skills and materials needed to support direct care staff on the use of the DECA/DECA-I/T Program.

Professional Development on Your Journey Together

Your Journey Together Training – Your Journey Together (YJT) is a strength-based curriculum designed to promote the social and emotional well-being and resilience of vulnerable children and their families. The curriculum is based on 29 stepping stones, which are 10-15 minute lessons that can be used in the context of working with families, both in home visiting and in group settings. Your Journey Together is a great resource that can complement programs using the DECA Program but can also be used independently. Professional development can be offered in a live, 1-day format as well as in distance learning and self-paced formats.

Other Popular Early Childhood Resources offered by DCRC

Professional Development on other popular resources offered by DCRC

FLIP IT Training – This 1-day training can complement the use of the DECA Program or can be a stand-alone training to support children (ages 3-8) with challenging behavior. FLIP IT teaches staff about four supportive steps that can be used to help young children learn about their feelings, gain self-control and reduce challenging behavior. When faced with challenging behavior, don't FLIP OUT, just FLIP IT! On-line learning course on FLIP IT is also available at <https://www.centerforresilientchildren.org/flip-it/flipitonlinelearning/>.

\ 2 Day FLIP IT Train-the-Trainer Session also available to communities. Contact Debi Mahler, Director of Professional Development, at dmahler@devereux.org for more information.*

Advanced FLIP IT Training – Has your program received FLIP IT Training and looking for more opportunities to practice FLIPPING? We now offer a highly interactive and hands-on 1-Day Training that provides additional opportunities to build skills in mastering the FLIP IT strategy.

Facing the Challenge Training – This 1-day training also offers more on the topic of challenging behavior in preschool children. Included in this training is more on what is challenging behavior, what is developmentally appropriate behavior, why do children misbehave, prevention strategies, behavioral planning, and intervention strategies. Video vignettes and case studies will be used to illustrate key points. * 2.5 Facing the Challenge Train-the-Trainer Session also available to communities. Contact Debi Mahler, Director of Professional Development, at dmahler@devereux.org for more information.

Socially Strong, Emotionally Secure: Activities to Promote Resilience of Preschoolers at School and Home- This 1-day training is for programs both familiar and not familiar with the DECA Program. This training focuses on everyday activities that can be used to teach social and emotional skills both within the classroom and for use by families in the home. Participants will leave this session understanding how everyday activities—when used in meaningful, intentional ways--- are powerful teaching tools!

Building Your Bounce: Promoting Adult Resilience Training – This training/workshop/keynote can provide an educational and inspirational start to the school year. Using the Devereux Adult Resilience Survey (DARS) and Building Your Bounce journal published by the Devereux Center for Resilient Children, this workshop is a fun way for caregivers to recognize the importance of their own resilience and how it relates to their ability to provide quality care to the children in their care. Get ready to reflect, laugh, and have fun!

Advanced Building Your Bounce: Promoting Adult Resilience Training – Has your program received training on Building Your Bounce in the past? This next level training dives deeper into the understanding the characteristics of resilience in adults and provides additional strategies on how to strengthen these areas through simple, everyday strategies. As we all know, it is critically important to take care of ourselves!

Building Your Bounce: Promoting Adult Resilience Webinar series – DCRC offers recorded webinars on key content related to adult resilience. If your program is looking for a refresher or perhaps a learning experience to occur over time, this option may be for you! Complete with interactive elements within the webinars along with group discussion questions at the conclusion of each webinar, this professional development opportunity offers a cost efficient and flexible way to share content with your staff.

Resilient Leadership - Building Staff Bounce! - In this training, leaders will have an opportunity to reflect on what it means to be a resilient leader and how to build the bounce of staff. Leaders will use the Devereux Resilient Leadership Survey (DERLS) to reflect on ways to support their staff resilience. This training provides many opportunities to learn and develop meaningful and resilience building strategies for staff based on the DERLS research informed items. Finally, leaders will have an opportunity to reflect on their own resilience and explore strategies to build their personal bounce.
